PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 19.—The legiselection of Fred G. Hughes, of Pima for president of the council, and D. G.

Chalmers of Pima, speaker of the house.
There was a sectional fight over the apportionment of officers of the session, thirteen of the outside members combining in the house against Maricopa county. The combination was carried out today. Nearly all places were given to applicants from other

More Promotions.

Within the last thirty days there have been more promotions, especially in the cavalry arm of the service, than for many months past, and lieutenants who have for years been waiting, waiting, waiting for a step up higher are taking that step—some of them with a hop, skip and jump.

Following are the promotions made yesterday: Colonel Thomas Sullivan, assistant commissary general of subsistence, to be brigadier general and commissary general of subsistence; Captain L. H. Rucker, Ninth cavalry, to be major; Captain E. L. Higgins, Second cavalry, to be major; First Lieutenant Powell, Ninth cavalry, to be captain; First Lieutenant Jackson, Seventh infantry, to be captain. Also several promotions of second lieutenants to be first lieutenants.

Journalistic taste has taken a tumble to which "dead nuttin'" is respectable, when a newspaper stigmatizes a large number of its fellow citizens as "blackmailers," because they, in a legitimate manner, sign a petition, the object of which was to call three of their fellow citizens to the management of school affairs. Genius in its flights outdoes approaches madness, but a break of this kind savors of "sewer connections."

The track layers on the Corralitos road have completed the twenty-eight miles and are on the heels of the graders. The latter are now up on the mesa, but were delayed by some heavy work on the approach to the mesa.

Twenty-eight car loads of ore were exported from Juarez the other day, to the value of over $400,000; one car load alone being $15,000.

THE QUEEN'S SPEECH.

She Weeps With the India Sufferers
And Smiles On Uncle Sam.

LONDON, Jan. 91.—Parliament reassembled today. The House of Commons proceeded to the House of Lords to hear the reading of the queen's speech which was read by the Lord Chancellor, a synopsis of which is as follows:

"The rebellion in Matabeleland and Mashonaland has been repressed by the steadfastness and courage of settlers, reinforced by my troops and volunteers.

The depressed condition of the sugar industry in the West Indian colonies has seriously affected their prosperity.
I have appointed a commission to investigate causes, and if possible, suggest means of amelioration. It is with much regret and with feelings of deepest sympathy that I have heard that owing to failure of autumn rains, there has been a scarcity and famine that affected a large part of India, that my government in that country is making every effort to mitigate the suffering and lessen the calamity by the development of railways and irrigation works."

Her Majesty refers to the plague in Bombay, and various questions in the east and commends the Venezuela arbitration. Speaking of this country she says:

"It is with much gratification that I have concluded a treaty for general arbitration, with the president of the United States by which I trust that all differences which may hereafter arise between us will be peacefully adjusted.
I hope this arrangement may have further value in commending to other powers the consideration of principles by which danger of war may be notably abated."

The queen concludes by suggesting many matters for international improvement in her kingdom.

TEXAS AND PACIFIC WRECK.

Engineer Killed and Three Others Injured by Train Wreckers.

The Dallas News special of Sunday says:

News reached Texarkana today of a serious accident on the Texas and Pacific railroad at Forrest, fifteen miles west of Texarkana, at 10:35 last night.
As No. 3 passenger train for El Paso was nearing the station it struck an iron rail that had been placed across the track. The engine was turned over and fell down a slight embankment.
The tank was lodged across the track, while the express car and smoker were leaned over almost to a turning point.

Engineer M. L. Clemmons in his effort to escape, jumped from the engine the moment he felt the obstruction, but he landed too near the track, and before he could regain himself sufficiently from the jar to crawl away the falling engine caught him, mashing off his legs above the knee. He was taken to the Marshall hospital, where he died at 7:45 this morning.

The fireman, whose name is given as Moore, received a broken shoulder and is otherwise badly bruised.

The express messenger, Barney Wilson, was considerably shaken up, but it is certain that he was not hurt.

Wm. Ratcliff, the mail agent, was slightly injured.

The passengers were all in the rear cars and suffer no injury whatever.

The express and smoking cars were greatly damaged and the tender of the engine crushed in.

Engineer Clemmons was a cripple, and it was no doubt due his slow movement in escaping. He was an old employee of the Texas & Pacific railroad and a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Considerable confusion existed at the scene of the disaster and it was several hours before the track could be sufficiently cleared to enable the proper restoration of traffic.

"One hundred and fifty school teachers wanted" has long been a standing sign on the door of the New York board of education. The members of the board are puzzled and can not explain the dearth of applicants.
It might be that the position is intermediate between the housewife and the real woman, and the girls prefer to step to the front at once.

The four men arrested for holding up a street car in Kansas City, have been indicted by the grand jury for train robbery which may mean death in Missouri. The Pacific Express company's clerk, George E. Ross who was arrested in Texas after absconding from Kansas City, has also been indicted.

Governor Wells, of Utah in his message to the legislature just assembled urges that the state be reduced to a cash basis every day in the year.
Utah's young governor has a great head on him.

Reports from Oaxaca are highly flattering. In Vera Cruz trees that were planted four years ago are laden with coffee which excels previous productions as regards to quality.

The School Election.

For the amount of that that has been indulged in the last few days, the balloting today on the school election does not seem to have amounted to any great amount of beans—that is, beans as viewed from a Mexican standpoint.

But it is pleasant to note that there were no unseemly disorders at the polls, there was no challenging to speak of, no election fights, no election drunks, no noticeable herding the Mexican man and brother at the polls from ward 5, at four bits per head. The judges had plenty of time to converse on the various topics of the day with citizens who stood around first on one leg and then on the other, as they shifted sundry small sales of plug or cavendish fine cut from one cheek to the other, and talked on the weather, the Seely dinner, the mud and other exhilarating if not actually exciting topics.

The election was a good deal on the Quaker order. There were but two tickets, and you took one or the other or you took neither and scratched just as your cheerful fancies suited you.
On one ticket was Dr. Race, E. C. Pew and W. R. Martin; on the other, W. S.
McCutcheon, R. B. Bias and W. B.
Brack. There was considerable scrutinizing, R. B. Bias appearing to be a favorite.
